Don DeWaay is the Top Advisor in the State of Iowa in Barron's 2010 Rankings

Annual List Compiled by Magazine Puts Don at Top

In a noteworthy honor, Barron's Magazine has ranked Don DeWaay as the 2010 Top Advisor in the State of Iowa. The rankings are determined by intensive evaluation of a wealth manager's assets under management, revenue produced for the firm, regulatory record, and quality of service and philanthropic work.

Barron's Magazine, published by the Dow Jones & Company since 1921, ranks advisors in different categories every year. Their annual lists include the Top 100 Advisors Nationwide and Top 100 Independent Advisors, both of which Don was named to within the last year.

"This is an exceptional distinction for me," said Don. "The Top 100 Nationwide and Independent awards acknowledged our growing presence on the national stage, and I feel this signifies our commitment to the community here in Iowa. While our clients everywhere receive the same first class service and resources, DeWaay Capital Management was built in Iowa."

With over $750 million in assets under management for clients, corporations, and charitable foundations throughout the country, DeWaay Capital Management has remained a viable resource for its clients through turbulent times. DeWaay's Iowa roots are reflected in the personal attention Don and his team provide to every client.

"I set out to create a financial advisory firm with powerful resources most attribute only to giant financial heavyweights yet refined to deliver services in a personal manner reflecting my Midwest values," Don added. "This award gives further credence to that core mission here at DeWaay Capital Management."

Don works with clients and the community from his offices in Clive, Iowa and Okoboji, Iowa.
