Don DeWaay Ranked 54th on Barron's Top 100 Independent Advisors List

Ranking marks second showing for DeWaay

We are proud to announce that Barron's Magazine honored Don once again, naming him #54 on the list of the 2010 Top 100 Independent Financial Advisors. Don was also named to the Top 100 Independent Financial Advisors as well as the overall Top 100 Financial Advisors in 2009.

The Dow Jones & Company has published Barron's Magazine since 1921. It holds the reputation as an industry standard for relevant news and analysis on the market.

"Being ranked in the Top 100 in 2009 was an incredible honor," Don said. "To be recognized again in 2010 illustrates that our holistic approach to wealth management makes a meaningful difference to our clients. Building trust, understanding client values, and providing comprehensive expertise; these are standards that our clients count on."

Despite the continued economic volatility, DeWaay Capital Management continues to grow and now manages more than $750 million for clients, corporations, and charitable foundations throughout the country. DeWaay's independent roots allow it to bring a higher level of quality to wealth management that larger firms cannot.

"Independent firms are built by entrepreneurs driven by personal passion to do things the right way," DeWaay added. "More and more investors are moving from the large wire houses to the independent space because they lack these qualities. Our independence allows us to provide a much higher level of service and accountability to their needs."

DeWaay continues to serve his clients and community from his office in Clive, Iowa and recently opened an office in Okoboji, Iowa.
